RECOVERED VESSEL

On November 21st a concerned member of the public observed a suspicious MacGregor sailboat in the Ladner area of the Fraser River. After noting a MacGregor listed on Stolen Boats Canada as being stolen from off Kits Point in September, the caller notified the Vancouver Police Marine Unit. Members attended and secured the vessel. It was determined that all identifying numbers had been removed and the vessel had been concealed with a new name and fraudulent vessel license. An extensive inspection of the vessel enabled investigators to confirm that the vessel recovered in Ladner was the vessel stolen from Vancouver two months earlier. VPD Marine Unit would like to thank the community for their continued vigilance and assistance.
